Who are we?

At English Spirit, we believe that good food and drink are some of life's greatest pleasures, and that good spirits are a form of cuisine in their own right. That's why we're on a mission to make the best spirits money can buy: using great ingredients and ten years of distilling experience to create spirits of a brand new quality standard. Our distillery is our liquid kitchen, and our philosophy is to make alcohol not just for getting drunk, but to be savoured for its unique flavour.

From our base at historic Great Yeldham Hall in Essex, we distil the UK's widest variety of spirits & liqueurs, including vodkas, gins, rums, brandies, single malts, liqueurs and much more. Innovation is what we do; we were the first to distil rum in the UK; and now we want to be the first to bring together good spirits and good food in a way never seen before.

In the latest chapter of our adventure, we are building a brand new distillery and visitor experience at Treguddick Manor, in Cornwall. As well as producing world class spirits, this will be home to a restaurant, bar, shop, tours, and even geodesic domes to grow our ingredients on site. A cathedral to spirits and fine flavours, which we hope will become a crown jewel in the South West's lively food and drink scene. Our restaurant will serve innovative, high quality dishes, including with spirit pairings and some with spirit ingredients. We're on a mission to show the world just how delicious spirits can be when you drink the best. And that's where you come in.

The role

We have several opportunities available, with a variety of hours and days required. These include:

- Events - representing and selling English Spirit at a wide variety of events, ranging from farmers' markets to some of England's most prestigious food and drink festivals. These primarily take place at weekends, and pay 10% commission on the day's sales (or minimum daily fee of £75, whichever is higher) plus mileage.
- Tours - hosting tours & tastings at our distillery at Treguddick Manor, near Launceston, upon opening in late summer 2021. These will run seven days a week, with occasional evening events. These will pay £10 per hour, plus 10% commission on sales made at the end of the tour.

Other opportunities include: operating our horsebox bar in the field, hosting talks & tastings (either in the field or virtually) and manning the distillery shop at Treguddick Manor.

What we're looking for

A driving license and a vehicle capable of transporting our spirits are required. Otherwise, no particular experience or qualification is essential. We are simply looking for enthusiastic people that are passionate about good spirits, good food and good times; who enjoy engaging with people; and like working with high quality products that you can believe in.

Why work with us?

- Product quality: You will be representing the UK's most innovative and experienced distillery: the quality of our products is second to none. If you've already tried our spirits you'll know what we mean!
- Flexible role/hours: The role is casual, and is well suited for fitted around your existing commitments. There are no fees, no franchises, no funny business. We keep things simple by giving you everything you need to succeed, in return for you bringing your passion and enthusiasm to our brand.
- Training and support: Full brand training and resource documents will be provided once you start, including shadowing experienced members of the team at tours and field events, and training opportunities at Treguddick. Additionally, our team will be on hand to provide any support or knowledge you require.
